

About our workshops:

- We can come to you. Don't shell out money for travel costs for your team. Save time and money and let us come to your site.
- We work with groups of any size.
- We determine cost of the workshop based on a few criteria: size of the congregation, number of people in the workshop, and scope of the project. We will provide a written estimate for your consideration.
- We facilitate workshops anywhere from 2 hours to 2 days.
- We invite people to participate, no one is ever compelled.
- We'll refund you're money if not satisfied.

Two things set your congregation apart from all others: your people and the quality of the relationships within it.

Invest in your congregation's most important asset...your people.

GROUP MIND:: WORKSHOPS

Team Building that connects and transforms.

Our name, Group Mind, reflects what we hope happens in every congregation. It was said of the early Christian church recorded in Acts that they were of "one heart and one mind." In essence, group mind.

Group mind is a concept used by improvisers to describe the connection that happens between actors on stage. As deep connections are made between actors through acceptance and adding, letting go of ego, and making the other look good, compelling scenes are created.

The same connections can happen in congregations and create dynamic and compelling communities of Christ.

Built upon the foundation of the Trinity and inspired by applied improvisation, our workshops create safe spaces where people connect and discover what God is doing in their midst.

Improvisation is about discovery, not comedy. The result is relationship.

WORKSHOPS

We remember 10% of what we hear and 90% of what we feel. It's little wonder why our workshops have such a great and lasting effect on people. The experiential and engaging nature of each workshop increases the odds that your team will be transformed and connected.

Cost per workshop starts at $250.
